Market Analysis

Cardiology is a branch of medicine which includes medical diagnosis and treatment of congenital heart defects, coronary artery disease, heart failure, valvular heart disease and electrophysiology. Cardiologists play a unique role in the diagnosing and treating patients with diseases and defects of the heart and blood vessels. Cardiologists mostly work with adult patients and paediatric cardiology is a separate specialty. Typically, in a week, a cardiologist will spend three-quarters of their time on direct clinical care and in laboratory work. Nearly 70% of consultants say they are routinely on-call at weekends. The rest of their week is taken up doing support activities such as providing advice to colleagues, primary care services, etc... The World Congress on Cardiac Nursing and Cardiology Congress provides a great platform for experiencing and refreshing your knowledge base amid world-class researchers and scientists. The members will benefit from the latest advances, improvements and frameworks organization with specialists over the globe.

About City and Venue

Tokyo is the capital city of Japan and one of its 47 prefectures. The Greater Tokyo Area is the most populous metropolitan area in the world. It is the seat of the Emperor of Japan and the Japanese government. Tokyo is in the Kantō region on the southeastern side of the main island Honshu and includes the Izu Islands and Ogasawara Islands. Formerly known as Edo, it has been the de facto seat of government since 1603 when Shōgun Tokugawa Ieyasu made the city his headquarters. It officially became the capital after Emperor Meiji moved his seat to the city from the old capital of Kyoto in 1868; at that time Edo was renamed Tokyo. Tokyo Metropolis was formed in 1943 from the merger of the former Tokyo Prefecture and the city of Tokyo. Tokyo is often referred to as a city, but is officially known and governed as a “metropolitan prefecture”, which differs from and combines elements of a city and a prefecture, a characteristic unique to Tokyo. The Tokyo Metropolitan Government administers the 23 Special Wards of Tokyo (each governed as an individual city), which cover the area that was the city of Tokyo before it merged and became the metropolitan prefecture in 1943, the 30 municipalities in the western part of the prefecture, and the two outlying island chains.
