AMERICAN DENTAL 2022

ABOUT THE EVENT

Magnus group takes the privilege to invite you to the "5th Edition of International Conference on Dentistry and Oral Health." (American Dental 2022) Following the extremely fruitful four editions of this conference, we are pleased to announce that American Dental 2022 will hold its 5th edition in "American Dental 2022" HYBRID EVENT scheduled during April 25-27, 2022.

American Dental 2022 is scheduled in Hybrid Format with both onsite and virtual versions. We believe that our decision will enable broad participation.

The conference will be organized around the theme "SMILE: Shaping dentistry with Multifaceted Innovations and Leveraging Enhanced technologies" and will emphasize majorly on the recent advancements and current trends in the field of dentistry and oral health.

Dentistry & Oral Health has evolved into a highly vast and diverse speciality during the last few decades. Technological advancements have provided a wide range of therapeutic alternatives and advances. Advances in health care will have an impact on the integration and delivery of oral care; on the other hand, there is a rising recognition that oral health has an impact on systemic health. Despite the fact that everyone understands how important dental health is and how closely it is linked to our overall health, no one likes going to the dentist. However, in the future, a slew of new technologies ranging from virtual reality to artificial intelligence (A.I.) to CRISPR will revolutionise dentistry and our whole attitude toward oral health.

The American Dental 2022 Conference will include a diverse group of renowned speakers who will share their knowledge and confabulate on a variety of cutting-edge research with a common goal of shaping the future of dentistry and oral health.

The three-day annual global congress will amalgamate health care professionals, doctors, dentists, dental technicians, academicians, researchers, scientists, clinical experts, and industry professionals from around the globe. Participants can gather insights from plenary talks and keynote sessions and deliver oral and poster presentations, exchange information, and interact with experts in their field which will open doors to future collaborations.

We look forward to welcoming you to Las Vegas, and to the many exciting presentations and discussions through which we plan to share and advance knowledge of oral health and dentistry.
